Report on the Certificate Course on AutoCAD

The Department of science and Humanities organized the Certificate course on Auto CAD for Mechanical & Civil Engineering students, from 05.12.22 to 09.12.22 at Meenakshi College of Engineering, Chennai.

This course aims to furnish students with AutoCAD expertise, emphasizing proficiency in design and drafting through comprehensive training. Spanning 30 hours, it encompasses fundamental and advanced aspects of the software.

The course covered a range of essential elements, including familiarizing participants with the software's interface, tools, and basic commands, explaining the significance of layers and properties for efficient drawing organization, providing methods to enhance clarity and precision through dimensioning and annotations, introducing advanced tools like blocks, hatching, and external references to boost productivity, presenting fundamental 3D modeling concepts and techniques for object creation and editing, and instructing participants on rendering methods for achieving realistic visualizations of 3D models.

The course was instructed by a certified AutoCAD trainer from Capital Innovate Solutions, who possessed significant practical experience. They offered tailored guidance and feedback to ensure participants received sufficient support throughout the training.

Overall, the AutoCAD training course successfully equipped participants with the skills and knowledge necessary to confidently use the software for design and drafting tasks. The combination of theoretical instruction and practical application proved beneficial in enhancing participants' proficiency. 75 students completed the course successfully.
